Guiding Light – inspiration - the Rose window in St George’s Cathedral, Cape Town.

Inspiration: The rose window of the southern transept in St George’s Cathedral, Cape Town is the inspiration for this quilt. The colours of the ‘glass’ reflect the rainbow nation of South Africa. Leah and Desmond Tutu have values that are firm foundations or cornerstones for living a good life and these values and ideals are verbs and emotions that are ‘cast in the stone’ surrounding the magnificent window. Leah has a beautiful red rose named in her honour and her continual concern, love and support is in full bloom. Desmond who humorously says ‘just call me The Arch’ has walked many cobbled roads in his journey as a leader and the Arch Bishop Emeritus of the Anglican Church, giving direction and praying for dignity, human rights and for peace across the world. They truly are a Guiding Light.
God bless Africa, guard her people, guide her rulers and bring her peace.
